IS YOUR FUNERAL HOME DEPENDENT...

Ask about who owns it. If it's a big conglomerate, and decisions are made by a board of directors in some unknown city, that funeral home is dependent. Locally, their hands are tied on important matters such as price. They can't make a move without permission from higher up.

OR

INDEPENDENT?

But, if you can call the owner by name, get answers to your questions, and receive service that goes beyond the written agreement— you've found an independent. They take the responsibility to meet your needs, and they're free to serve you— your way.
